Greek Architecture

By ALLAN MARQUAND, Ph.D., L.H.D., Professor of Art and Archaeology in Princeton University.

Cloth, $2.50; postpaid, $2.67.

Greek Constitutional History

By A. H. J. GREENIDGE, M.A., Late Lecturer in Hertford College and Brasenose College, Oxford.

Most authors in writing of Greek History emphasize the structure of the constitutions; Mr. Greenidge lays particular stress upon the workings of these constitutions. With this purpose ever in view, he treats of the development of Greek public law, distinguishing the different types of states as they appear.

Cloth, $1.25; postpaid, $1.35.

Greek and Roman Coins

By G. F. HILL, M.A., of the Department of Coins and Medals in the British Museum.

All the information needed by the beginner in numismatics, or for ordinary reference, is here presented. The condensation necessary to bring the material within the size of the present volume has in no way interfered with its clearness or readableness.

Cloth, $2.25; postpaid, $2.38.

The Destruction of Ancient Rome

By RODOLFO LANCIANI, D.C.L., Oxford; LL.D., Harvard;
Professor of Ancient Topography in the University of Rome.

Roman Festivals

By W. WARDE FOWLER, M.A., Fellow and Sub-Rector of

Director of the American School of Classical Studies in Rome, and formerly Professor of Archaeology and Ancient History in Princeton University.

"The learned author reviews the monuments of Rome during the ten centuries from Constantine to the Renaissance." "The plan of the volume is simple and admirable. The first part comprises a historical sketch; the second, a classification of the monuments." — The Outlook.

Political, social, and religious facts are coördinated with the history of art, so as to form a single picture. The volume is pronounced "a credit to American scholarship."

Cloth, $2.25; postpaid, $2.43.

FACSIMILE OF THE CODEX VENETUS MARCIANUS 474 OF ARISTOPHANES

The photographic facsimile of this important MS. was undertaken jointly by the Archaeological Institute of America and the Society for the Promotion of Hellenic Studies, with the permission of the Government of His Majesty the King of Italy, and was issued in an edition of two hundred copies in 1902. The most of these have been sold. The price per copy of those that remain unsold is $35.00 in portfolio, and $36.75 bound in half-morocco.

The Codex Venetus Marcianus CCCCLXXIV is one of the oldest and best sources of the text of Aristophanes. It was written at the beginning of the twelfth century, contains seven plays, and is superior to all other manuscripts of this author in the number and quality of the scholia with which its margins are filled. It is indeed especially on account of the scholia that a reproduction was called for; for while the scholia of the Ravennas, though less valuable, have been edited in full, those of the Venetus, which are of prime importance for the criticism of Aristophanes, have never been adequately published.

The plates, 344 in number, were executed by the collotype process by the Oxford University Press from negatives taken by Signor Bertani of Venice. A full palaeographical introduction by Mr. T. W. Allen, Fellow of Queen's College, Oxford, is prefixed to the facsimile.

WILLIAM FENWICK HARRIS

With photogravure portrait. Large crown 8vo, $.75 net, postage extra

The many friends and admirers of the late Professor Charles Eliot Norton will take deep pleasure in these two fine and sympathetic eulogies originally delivered before the Archaeological Institute of America, now reprinted together. # A Handbook of Greek Archaeology

BY

HAROLD N. FOWLER, PH.D.

Professor of Greek, Western Reserve University

AND

JAMES R. WHEELER, PH.D.

Professor of Greek Archaeology and Art, Columbia University

$2.00

THIS Handbook is intended primarily for the use of students beginning the study of Greek Archaeology. In the subjects of Greek sculpture and coins it has not been difficult for the English reader to get at the salient archaeological facts, but in other departments there are almost no elementary works which cover the ground adequately. The book thus meets a distinct need.

An introductory chapter gives a brief survey of the history of Greek archaeology in order that the reader may appreciate the steps by which our present stage of knowledge has been reached. The succeeding chapters treat of Prehellenic Greece, sculpture, architecture, vases, paintings, terra cottas, metal work, and coins; accompanied by a complete index. The chapter on architecture contains numerous observations on technical points of stone construction, which have not elsewhere been published so conveniently and clearly.

The illustrations present clearly the typical features of the art of different epochs. In their selection the authors have gone as much as possible to the museums of this country, and a number of objects are here reproduced for the first time.

EUGENE P. ANDREWS, Instructor in Archaeology and Curator of the Museum of Casts, Cornell University: "If ever a textbook was needed, we needed a book on Greek Archaeology to put into the hands of American college students. If ever two Americans were qualified to write such a book, Fowler and Wheeler are the men. We all owe them a big debt of gratitude.

"Of course I have put it into my classes. I have waited for it too long to wait for the beginning of a new year. I have been waiting to see how it worked in the hands of my students before I wrote you, for that is really the test of a book which professes to be a textbook. I find it amazingly complete and up-to-date. The mass that they have sifted through is, as you know, enormous. As I use the book I realize more and more that they have done their difficult work well. You need have no anxiety about the reception the book will meet with in other institutions. It stands unique before the American lovers of things Greek in what it undertakes, and it was sadly needed."

WILHELM DÖRFFELD, Kaiserlich Deutsches Archäologisches Institut, Athen: "Ich finde das Buch ganz vorzüglich. Das ganze Gebiet der Kunst-Archäologie ist kurz und treffend behandelt. Die zahlreichen Illustrationen sind trotz der grossen Verkleinerung sehr gut und höchst lehrreich. Ich werde das Buch gerne überall empfehlen."

ALLAN MARQUAND, Professor of Art and Archaeology, and Director of the Museum of Historical Art, Princeton University: "Fowler and Wheeler's Handbook of Greek Archaeology seems to me admirably composed and full of information—quite the best of its kind. It deserves to have a great success."

ARTHUR FAIRBANKS, Director of the Museum of Fine Arts, Boston: "Although Fowler and Wheeler's Greek Archaeology is called a handbook, it seems to me a notable contribution to the available literature on the subject."

SCHOOL OF AMERICAN ARCHAEOLOGY

THE SCHOOL OF AMERICAN ARCHAEOLOGY was founded by the Archaeological Institute of America in 1907, to conduct the researches of the Institute in the American field, direct the expeditions of the branch Societies, and afford opportunities for field work and training to students of archaeology and ethnology. Expeditions for the excavation of ancient American ruins are sent out from time to time. Students of archaeology and ethnology will be admitted to expeditions on satisfying the Director as to qualifications for the work proposed. Terms of admission will be furnished on application.

The Central American Fellowship with a stipend of $600 is awarded annually. Other Fellowships are to be established as soon as funds are secured for their maintenance. The School coöperates in research with the Bureau of American Ethnology and with universities and scientific organizations, both home and foreign. Correspondence is invited with reference to such collaboration in either field or archive work in American subjects.
